Algebra Richard N. Aufmann 2004-02 Based on the best-selling series by the Aufmann team, this hardcover text for the combined introductory and intermediate algebra course adheres to the formula that has made the Aufmann developmental texts so reliable for both students and instructors. The text's clear writing style, emphasis on problem-solving strategies, and proven Aufmann Interactive Method--in an objective-based framework--offer guided learning for both lecture and self-paced courses. The completely integrated learning system is organized by objectives. Each chapter begins with a list of learning objectives, which are woven throughout the text, in Exercises, Chapter Tests, and Cumulative Reviews, as well as through the print and multimedia ancillaries. The result is a seamless, easy-to-follow learning system. Mathematical Book Review Index, 1800-1940 Louise S. Grinstein 1992 This work provides access to approximately 5,000 reviews of English-language mathematical books published in North America. Included are works on mathematics, science, philosophy, and education appearing in the periodical literature from 1800 to 1940. It covers materials not reviewed in Book Review Index and Book Review Digest. It predates Mathematical Reviews, which first appeared in 1940. Books on all aspects of mathematics are included. There are subject, reviewer, and title indexes.

Ssm, SG Trigonometry for College Students Karl J. Smith 1994-01

This text offers a sound mathematical foundation combined with an informal writing style that students can read, understand, and enjoy. Smith defines the circular function on a unit circle first, and generalizes the definition in terms of any point on the terminal side of the angle. He focuses on learning trigonometry as a function of an angle and emphasizes conceptual understanding. Thorough discussion of the use of the graphing calculator enhances students' understanding of the material, however, instructors may choose whether or not to use the graphing calculator in their own development of the material.
