Apology of the Book of Concord 4 Nikolaus Selnecker 2022-11-12 After the Book of Concord was published in 1580, it was attacked. This is the defense against the attack especially against the original Augsburg Confession, prepared by Nikolaus Selnecker, one of the original authors of the Formula of Concord.

The Augsburg Confession and Its Apology Concordia Publishing House 1999-06 In addition to the Bible, many other early, church writings can provide Christians with important insights into their faith. The Lutheran Confessions Series introduces the central beliefs expressed in the major Lutheran writings in a highly readable style, and shows how they provide additional insight into Scripture. Each book provides adult students with a convenient way to examine Lutheran doctrine and tradition. And for ease of use, each chapter includes excerpts from the relevant confessional documents, so there is no need to purchase other reference books in order to enjoy and benefit from these studies. Questions at the end of each chapter examine key concepts and give participants practical suggestions for taking that session's faith lesson out into the world. The Augsburg Confession study provides an opportunity to examine the confession of Lutheran beliefs as presented to Emperor Charles V in 1530. The Formula of Concord study reviews the defining statement of Lutheran doctrine. Written in 1577 by leading theologians of the day, it gives the Lutheran position on many controversial doctrinal issues. Enlightening and inspiring, these studies are an excellent way to encourage a deeper appreciation for God's truth and the rich history of the Lutheran church.

Gift and Promise Ed Schroeder 2016-08-01 Gift and Promise shows that the theology of the Augsburg Confession is as much a gift to the world today as it was when first presented in 1530. Building on a book started by Ed Schroeder (three chapters are presented in the first part), nine of his students present the theology of the Augsburg Confession in language that makes it accessible to those without a scholarly background, including pastors, students, and lay people interested in Lutheran history and theology. Gift and Promise establishes the theological "hub" of the Augsburg Confession—what the Confession itself calls the "central teaching of the Christian faith"—in the doctrine of justification by faith alone. That hub is traced to its source in Luther's theology of the cross. Each chapter presents how that central hub is articulated in the articles of faith that comprise the Augsburg Confession. Lucid, powerful, and insightful, the expositions in this volume are written by expert theologians, historians, and scholars who aim to present the crucial and practical message of the Christian life in the Augsburg Confession for all.

Documents: The Concordia Reader's Edition Concordia Publishing House 2020-06-25 The Augsburg Confession and the Apology of the Augsburg Confession are the fundamental confessions of faith contained in the Book of Concord. The Apology is also the longest and most detailed of the Lutheran Confessions. Never before has an edition been published where both were available. In addition, this edition features three other works in the appendix to help make sense of the writings in these fundamental books: Martin Luther's "Exhortation to the Clergy in Augsburg (1530)", John Eck's "404 Theses", and the Roman Catholic's response to the Augsburg Confessions, "Confutation of the Augsburg Confession."

The Apology of the Augsburg Confession Philipp Melanchthon 2023-07-18 Written in the 16th century by Philipp Melanchthon, the Apology of the Augsburg Confession was a response to criticisms of the Lutheran Church and its teachings. The book is a well-written and reasoned defense of Lutheran theology and remains an important text for students of religious history and theology. This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the "public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Confident Faith Mark Mittelberg 2013 In Confident Faith, Mark Mittelberg assures Christians that we can be confident in our beliefs. There's no reason to be timid about what we believe, because our beliefs can stand up to the test. Truth isn't dependent on how a person feels or one's own point of view, as so many assert. On the contrary, we can determine truth through our five senses, and that truth reliably points to a deeper and unseen reality. Mark walks readers through twenty arrows that point towards Christian beliefs: from the intricate design of the universe to archaeological proofs, from the consistent testimony of changed lives to the reliability of the ancient documents of the Bible. After studying these arrows, you'll put this book down with a renewed confidence in what you believe and why it matters for eternity.

The Augsburg Confession Philipp Melanchthon 2022-05-28 The Augsburg Confession is a book by Philipp Melanchthon. It presents the main confession of faith of the Lutheran Church, being one of the most significant records of the Lutheran Reformation.

Book of Harmony Martin J. Lohrmann 2016-07-01 The Reformation-era writings that make up the Lutheran Confessions remain lively resources for Christian ministry and mission today. Because each of the documents within the Book of Concord was written with a specific context and rhetorical purpose in mind, each has its own compelling story and objectives. Luther's catechisms present the faith for daily life at the grass-roots level, with teaching elements that we might now view as typical of social media and multimedia. The Augsburg Confession and its Apology provide an adaptable foundation for preaching, teaching, church organization, and dialogue that is rooted in the promise of Christ, received through faith. Fifteen years after the Diet of Worms, the Smalcald Articles reveal yet another "Here I stand" moment for Luther. Finally, the Formula of Concord shows how the next generations of Lutherans used collaboration and consensus as they wrestled with important themes of faith and life. In summary, as these texts engage us with their stories, they invite us to consider what is most important about our journeys of faith and Christian witness in today's twenty-first-century contexts.

Historical Introductions to the Lutheran Confessions Friedrich Bente 2005 The history of the Lutheran Confessions is the story of men and women who risked everything, and in some cases died, for the sake of the truth of God's Word. Friederich Bente tells the dramatic story of their joys and sorrows, their defeats and victories, their fear and their courage, with a wealth of detailed first-hand reports and eyewitness accounts of the events, people, and places that make up the dramatic history of the Lutheran Confessions. Lutheran Christians who fail to remember their history are cast adrift in an increasingly stormy sea of controversy, division, and disregard for our Lord's Word and Sacraments. What is more, they rob themselves of the opportunity to thank and praise the Lord of the Church for His rich and varied blessings through specific persons, events, places, and times.

The Defense of the Augsburg Confession 2011 The Apology of the Augsburg Confession was written by Philip Melanchthon during and after the 1530 Diet of Augsburg as a response to the Pontifical Confutation of the Augsburg Confession, Charles V's commissioned official Roman Catholic response to the Lutheran Augsburg Confession of June 25, 1530. It was intended to be a defense of the Augsburg Confession and a refutation of the Confutation. It was signed as a confession of faith by leading Lutheran magnates and clergy at the meeting of the Smalcald League in February, 1537, and subsequently included in the German [1580] and Latin [1584] Book of Concord. As the longest document in the Book of Concord, it offers the most detailed Lutheran response to the Roman Catholicism of that day as well as an extensive Lutheran exposition of the doctrine of Justification.

The Augsburg Confession Leif Grane 1987-03-01 A concise commentary, highly useful as an accompaniment to the reading of the Augsburg Confession itself. All who are interested in the doctrinal traditions of the Lutheran Church can find here the means to increase their theological and historical understanding of the text. The theological perspective of the Augsburg Confession is made clear by comparisons with the writings of Luther and other Reformers, as well as with other main streams of the Christian tradition. Included for each article of the confession are the English translation of the text, notes on the text, and theological and historical commentary on the meaning of the article. Also included are an extensive introduction to the writing of the confession, footnotes, a selected bibliography, and an index. In its Danish, Swedish, and German editions this commentary has become an indispensable introduction to this classic confession of the Lutheran Reformation. Here is a source of fresh insight into the meaning of the Augsburg Confession -- and guidance into the meaning of the gospel for today.

Commonplaces Philip Melanchthon 2014 This is arguably Philip Melanchthon's most important work. Anyone interested in the history of the Lutheran Reformation will find that this book, the first Lutheran work of "systematic theology," is presented in a very lively, accessible English translation, with extensive, helpful footnotes that explain the people and concepts used by Melanchthon to explain the Gospel. Features Clear English translation Scripture index Index of subjects and names Extensive historical introduction by translator Dr. Christian Preus Extensive footnotes explaining terminology, history, and theology
